

Glenda Cedarleaf MSW

Day 7 Journaling Questions

As you review what have you written so far in your script, what aspects have flowed easily?

What aspects of this process have felt stuck? Hopefully as you listen to this review today, you will be able to move through those stuck places.

After reviewing the components of a script in Day 7, let's take a look at your script again. How do you see these components integrating into your script?